FOREWORD

This year the staff of the 1963 Trucker presents a new and different arrangement in the layout of our yearbook. Our purpose has been to group classes, organizations, sports, and all activities according to the season in which they are most prevalent. This chronological order tells the story of Churchland "Through the Seasons."

The first season is Fall, and in the Fall we think of Freshmen, Teachers, Football, and Homecoming.

Fall is followed by the Winter season which is the time when all organizations are in full swing. The Sophomores and Juniors begin to feel that high school really means work, but this serious aspect of the year is interrupted by a general interest in Basketball and the annual Chorus and Band Christmas Concert.

Spring finally arrives and this is the most interesting time of the entire year as it is primarily devoted to the Seniors and their activities; there are the class pictures, Senior Superlatives and Honor Graduates, and last, but most important, Graduation.

Summer is a season of fun when thoughts of school are all but forgotten.

We, the staff, hope that the new arrangement will enable the public to visualize a complete school year at C.H.S. and will make the student body proud to be a part of Churchland High "Through the Seasons."

DEDICATION

Because, as a teacher, you have inspired us and instilled in many of us a love for Latin, your favorite language . . . because, as sponsor of The Trucker, you have worked many long, hard hours to produce an annual year after year . . . because, as sponsor of The National Honor Society, you have led the group ably and by your example, have stimulated the members to strive for higher goals . . . because, as all of these you have put Churchland High School first above all others, we inscribe with your name this record of our life at Churchland in 1963, as a lasting reminder of our deep respect and affection . . .

FOR YOU . . .

ROBERT BELL MOORE

MISS LYNN DUNNING
MISS TRUCKER 1963

Subscribers to the '63 TRUCKER chose Lynn Dunning to represent the annual as Miss Trucker. Lynn was chosen from nine Senior girls on the basis of her charm, poise, personality, and school spirit.

During her high school years Lynn has had many honors. She has been a class officer and a JV cheerleader. She is a member of the Mixed Chorus, the Triple Trio, and the Dramatics Club; she has acted in many plays, and this year she had one of the leads in the Senior Class Play. In her junior year Lynn was chosen Maid of Honor of the Homecoming Court. Reviewing Lynn's past accomplishments, it is easy to see why her schoolmates voted her "Miss Trucker for 1963."

Lynn receives a red carnation from Bob Weatherford of The TRUCKER Staff, announcing her as Miss Trucker.

Being a member of the Triple Trio and Mixed Chorus, much of Lynn's time is devoted to her music.

Lynn displays her other talents in the field of drama. Here she studies her lines in the one-act play, "The One That Got Away."

Lynn's face seems to reflect a Monday morning arrival at school.

Linda,

Organization and direction are the keys to success in any group of individuals. So it is among the faculty at CHS. Under the leadership of the various department heads, all of the work which is carried on in each department is so coordinated and arranged that students progress in a logical order in their learning.

Through meeting and planning together in their individual groups, all of the departments actively strive to improve and maintain the high quality of teaching characteristic of CHS.

The most emphasized subject in the modern high school curriculum is science. In the race for space many new scientists are needed. The high school has become a source of their discovery and encouragement.

CHS teaches the fundamentals in general science. In biology, chemistry, and physics the studies of life, of the composition of substances, and of matter and motion, respectively, are pursued. Advanced science is offered to a few seniors.

Business is a vital part of America's life; every phase of free enterprise requires some knowledge of commercial skills along with shorthand, bookkeeping, general business, typing, and clerical practice. Churchland's business department this year offers new courses in business law and record keeping. Three on-the-job courses — V.O.T., I.C.T., and D.E. — are parts of the program of study open to upperclassmen only.

DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE

In our fast-shrinking world, the importance of knowing a second tongue cannot be over-emphasized. Churchland offers four years each of French, Spanish, and Latin. French and Spanish are widely spoken romance languages. Latin, while not a spoken tongue, is the father of the romance languages and also the basis for much English. By studying the language and also the history and literature of a country, a student can equip himself for life tomorrow.

By tracing the history of the world, the social studies department aims to give the student a deeper insight into the reasons for our contemporary civilization. Churchland offers courses in geography, world history, American history, and government. The student learns how the events of the past influence present and future situations. Most important of all, the student learns the meaning of democracy and the value of this type of government.

An extremely important feature of the high school education program is the development of the student's physical abilities. For both recreation and development, CHS offers physical education courses as a requirement for underclassmen and an elective for upperclassmen. In this program students both use and study the human body. In addition, they have the "enjoyment" of the co-ed dancing classes every other Friday.

Girls in gym class do warm-up exercises at the beginning of class.

Linda Waters hopes to win a point as she returns the ball over the net.

Cooking, sewing, hammering, sawing, drilling, soldering, blueprinting, or designing have their place in everyday life, and to perfect these skills, CHS offers courses in the fields of manual training. Through actual experience in the fundamentals of home-making, girls acquire the necessary training for family living. Through construction of metal and wood projects, boys develop talents in these fields; and through carrying out intricate sketches, both boys and girls obtain skills in precision and neatness.

Each Trucker is the recipient of many special services each day. Frequent use is given to the many resources of the library. Likewise, the guidance office is always open to any student. The program of teaching in the special education class is another important service. The varied services of the office staff are also a part of a well-run school. Although these services are often taken for granted, they are an integral and vital part of CHS.

The phrase "unsung heroes" would probably be the most applicable title for the people represented on this page. Providing hot lunches for the entire school is the daily task of the cafeteria staff which tries to cater to the many tastes at CHS.

Greeting everybody and directing traffic every morning, Mrs. Cunningham looks out for all Truckers on their way to school. And caring for the physical plant by keeping an attractive, comfortable building occupies the time of our custodial staff.

CAFETERIA STAFF

Mrs. Blanche Bingham, Mrs. Bonnie Pritchard, Mrs. Mildred Dietrick, Miss Helen Roby, Mrs. Nettie Potts, Mrs. Mary Proctor, Mrs. Calister Turner, Mrs. Vivian Spearman, Mrs. Lena Bragg, Mrs. Dorothy Bullock.

FRESHMEN

On September 6, once again a new Freshman Class entered the "hallowed" halls of CHS. This was a big step; the freshmen were confronted by new subjects, new activities, new teachers, and an entirely different and new way of life.

Early in the fall the freshmen elected their class officers and chose Miss Van Dyck as sponsor. They performed many services for the seniors, such as carrying trays in the cafeteria and polishing rings. They entered into high school activities, forming the pattern for their next four years.

To conclude their year, the freshmen helped plan the annual prom with the sophomores which was held on May 10 in the cafeteria. Thus ended their first year as Truckers.

George Constantinides (33) rips off a large gain after George Norton (24) has cleared the way in the Cradock game.

Displaying a team with an explosive offensive attack, Churchland offered its fans many thrilling and unforgettable moments this season. Considered by some the finest team at Churchland since 1954, the Truckers were a most formidable foe to even the districts top teams. Only many narrow losses, several by missed extra points, prevented the Truckers from a winning season.

Led by Co-captains Bobby Green and Jody Bew, the Truckers eleven displayed some of the better talent in the district, and the team received many fine compliments from opposing coaches. One district coach, after his team narrowly defeated the Truckers, went so far as to say that Churchland was the best team he'd faced all season.

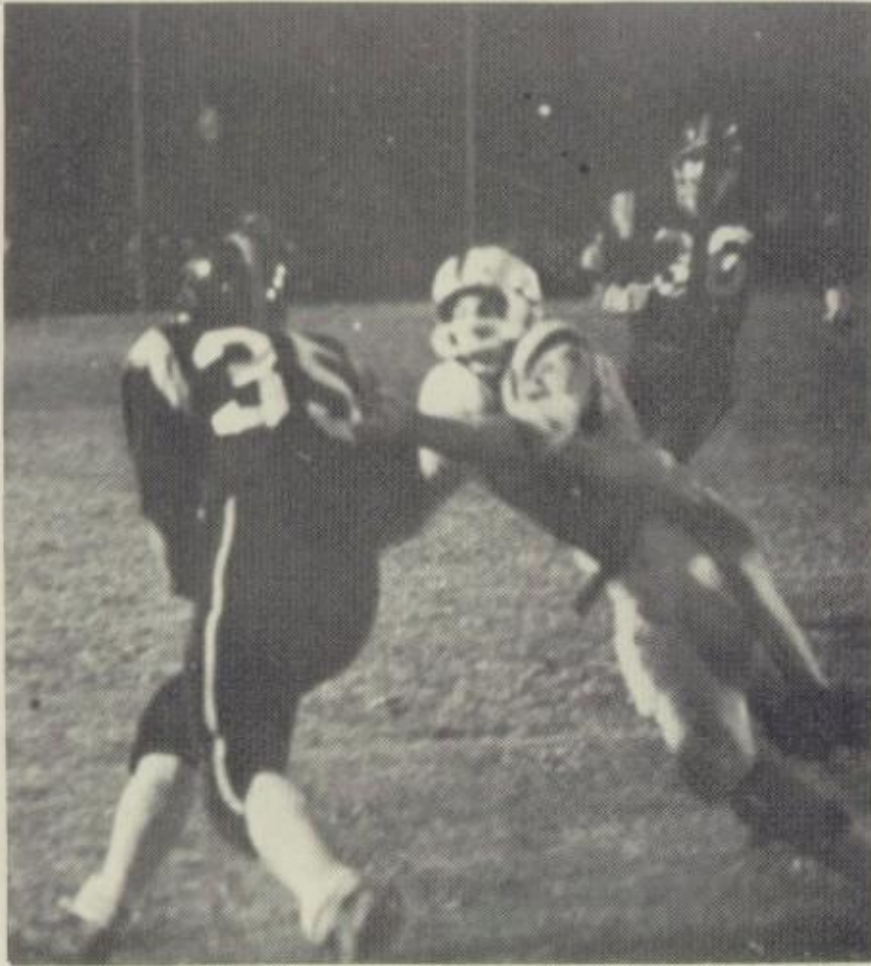

With team spirit and school backing high throughout the season, the Truckers performed in a manner to make everyone proud. With many returning lettermen, the Truckers of 1963 should be a most testing opponent.

Ray Austin (32) booms out one of his long punts.

Tommy Dickens (35) picks up a large gain as Jimmy Soderquist (36) charges in to block a would-be tackler.

Troy Anderson (25) leads interference as Ken-ny Currie (16) runs for a first down.

Jody Bew (00) turns right end for big yardage as Bobby Green (20) gets set to crush a Deep Creek Hornet.

Linebacker Jack Coppedge (18) stops a Craddock back in his own backfield for a large loss.

Bobby Green (20) gets set to snare a pass as a Granby player defends.

Kenny Atkinson (9) heads for pay dirt en route to his touchdown run with the opening kick-off against Craddock.

Displaying a team with hustle and desire, the Junior Varsity established themselves as tough contenders in the years to come. Its hard-hitting defense, which was one of the better in the district, was typical of Churchland style. Attending a J.V. encounter offered an afternoon of well-played football. Playing as they did this fall, the Junior Varsity left little doubt that Churchland's future will indeed be bright.

Jimmy Pitt (12) and Jay Paul (43) apply the tackle as Phil Ellis (13) Gary Lawson (10) Jimmy Hawks (36) and Joe Scott (31) move in to help.

Jack Humphries (8) picks up a sizeable gain against Princess Anne as Gene Brown leads interference.

Momo Whitlow (39) prepares to make a touchdown saving tackle against Frederick Military Academy.

Jack Taylor (19) slows up a Maury back as Gary Lawson (10) Wayne Armstrong (24) Jim Pringle (45) and Dickie Dickens (40) close in to assist.

CHURCHLAND HIGH BAND

The Churchland High School Band is certainly among the most active organizations around school. The group was an important part of each home football game with its precision marching and "peppy" music. Soon after this phase of their activity was over, members began to prepare for tryouts for the Eastern District All-State Band.

In December the band joined with the choral department to present the annual Christmas Concert. Spring brought with it an exciting trip for the group and, of course, their Spring Concert.

To meet their large expenses, the band sponsored several money-making projects throughout the year, among them the Harvest Festival and the "April Foolies."

MAJORETTES

As a vital part of any marching band, the majorettes add the color and sparkle that are needed to enhance the band's eye appeal. Churchland High's squad of majorettes not only helps to add this touch of color, but it also provides that touch of beauty. As the band is heard first when it is performing at a football game or in a parade, so the majorettes are seen first. It is this group of girls that makes the initial impression on the spectators. With their baton twirling, high stepping, and showlike performances, the CHS majorettes have put in many hours of hard work and practice to perfect their part of the band and to become a group of which every Trucker can be proud.

CAST MEMBERS

Standing: Judy Proctor, Harry Barnes, Geneva Williams, Donna Lorance, Linda Butler, Lynn Dunning, Milton Martin, Ronnie Slezak, Ann Slaydon, Cynthia Cummings, and Johnnie Mae King. On floor: Bebe Rowland and Billy Arrington.

"THE WHOLE TOWN'S TALKING"

The Whole Town's Talking is a comedy centered around Mr. Henry Simmons' attempt to marry his daughter Ethel to Chester Binney, his business partner. The two men spread a fictitious story about Chester's love affair with a movie star. Complications begin when Miss Lythe, the flaming star, unexpectedly arrives in town.

Through many hours of practice and hard work both on the part of the cast and of the stage crew, the Class of '63 was able to give a fine performance and a boost to the Senior Class treasury. Such an opportunity enabled the Senior Class to display its hidden talents and abilities and to convey to the public one phase of student life at Churchland High.

JUNIOR MARSHALS

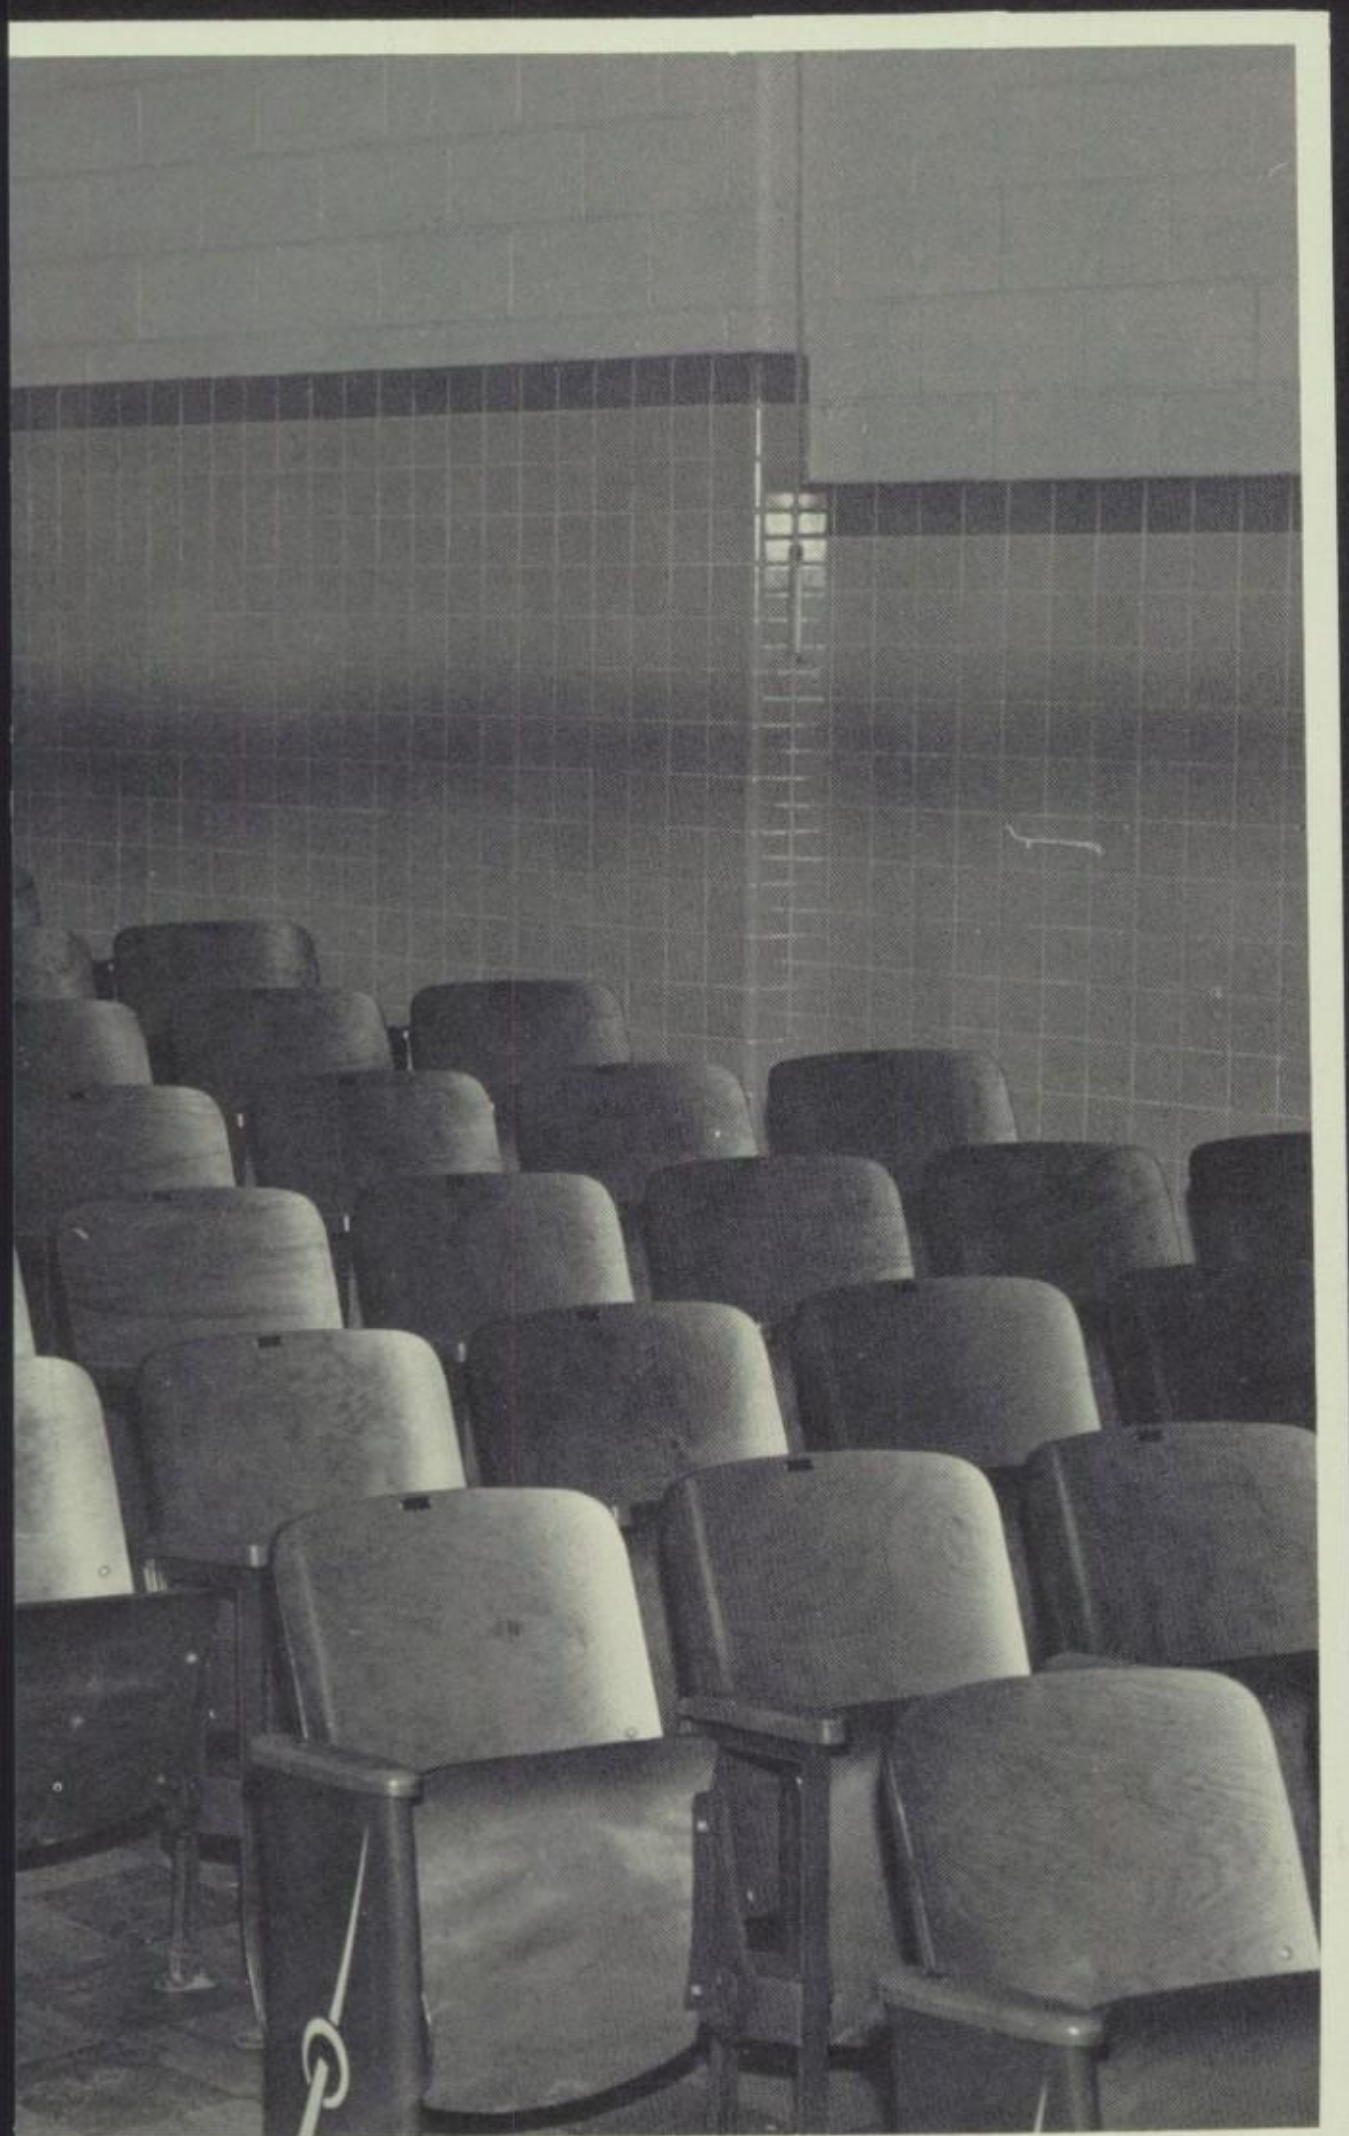

In recognition of outstanding scholarship, a group of twenty juniors are chosen to serve as Marshals for the year. Students qualifying for this position must maintain a scholastic average of "B" while in high school. Selection is first made by the faculty and then by the past Marshals.

Serving as hosts of the school, the Marshals can be seen at various school functions such as College Night, Senior Class Play, Concerts, Baccalaureate, and Graduation. Representing the student body in this manner, the Marshals present a fine example of our school to the public.

SOPHOMORES

Older and wiser, the sophomores returned to school for their second year, a year in which they became true members of the school, known as individuals and not only as a class.

Led by Jimmy Hawks as president and Miss Berry as class sponsor, the class planned for its biggest project of the year, the Freshman-Sophomore Prom which was held in May. Participation in many clubs began to take up more time and sports began to play a vital part with the Class of '65.

By studying a wide variety of subjects and learning many new facts, the sophomores eagerly prepared for their junior year when they would finally become upperclassmen.

STUDENT COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

Michael Miles, President

All Churchland students are considered members of the Student Co-operative Association. The student council represents the interests of the students through its officers, homeroom representatives and standing committees.

Those projects which involve the whole school are usually the responsibility of the SCA. Homecoming, Civil Defense Drills, and the orientation of new students are annual undertakings of the SCA. Services supplied to the students include a handbook, a student directory, and a bookstore. A scholarship is also awarded to a deserving Senior during graduation. As a representative of the whole student body, our SCA is one of the most active organizations in the school.

Lorraine bursts into the room announcing the first 100% homeroom in subscriptions for The 1963 Trucker!

THE TRUCKER

Again under the guidance of the Tri-Editors, the staff of the TRUCKER has put in a hard year's work to give the students of C.H.S. an annual they will be proud of. This year's TRUCKER is not only the best annual in the area, but also the largest. Due to a good summer of ad collecting and a large number of subscriptions, the staff has endeavored to print a complete picture of Churchland's activities from fall to spring.

The many hours spent in thinking up ideas for pictures and copy are always well-rewarded with the arrival and acceptance of the annual by the students. The staff of the 1963 TRUCKER has tried to make this annual as original and as interesting as can be, so that it will be remembered "Through Every Season".

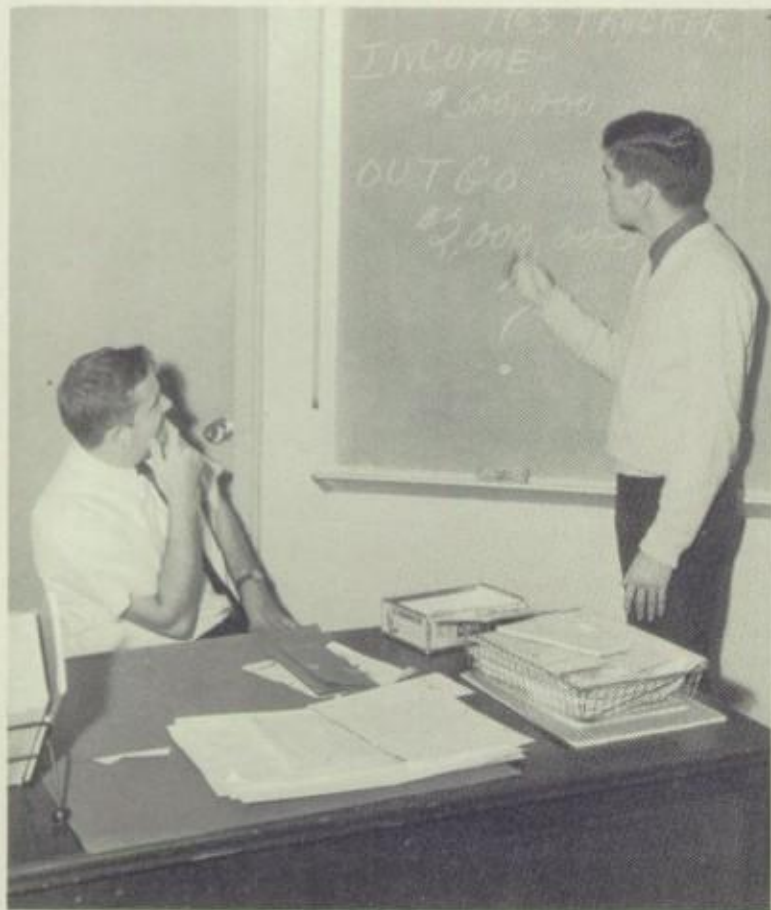

THE ANNUAL STAFF

Wondering how to balance the budget, Mr. Moore and Michael ponder the financial situation.

Mary Ann, Mary Mac, and Susie look over one of the many layouts used in The 1963 Trucker.

With the arrival of The Trucker, annual signing becomes a favorite pastime as this typical scene illustrates.

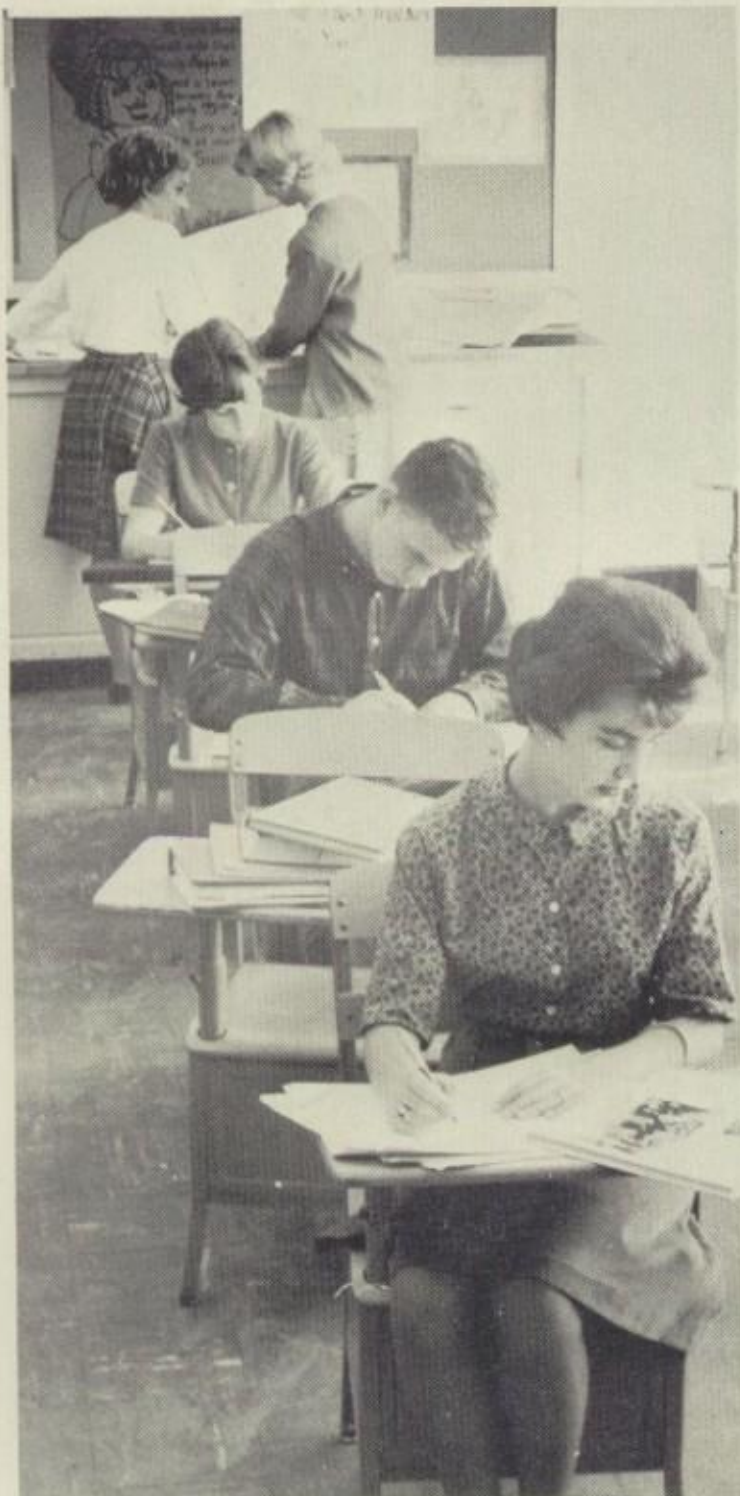

Cindi and Gloria put up posters advertising the biggest and best Trucker ever.

Marie and Michele are busy counting and checking the 888 subscriptions sold for this year's Trucker, which was the largest number of books ever sold.

Jimmy is caught in the act of taking a picture.

Beth, Tommy, Judy, Linda, and Fleet present a familiar scene in working on The 1963 Trucker.

To advertise The Trucker, Bob and Lois make a display on the staff and its work.

EDITOR'S CHOICE

In its third year of publication, the Editor's Choice once again gave the students of Churchland the opportunity to present their literary efforts in printed form. Since only one edition was published this year, the staff deliberated long and hard to select the best poems, essays, and stories for the school's one magazine.

Mr. Holbrook again served as advisor for the staff. Under his guidance, the magazine had been well received by the whole school. So, when the Editor's Choice appeared in the spring, it was no surprise that the students of Churchland had once more composed and published an excellent periodical for all to enjoy. The magazine was a credit to Mr. Holbrook and to the staff.

Members of the staff gather around to check over the newest issues of the Trucker Topics.

Beginning with a new staff of eager upper-classmen, Mr. Holbrook undertook to train these future journalists to put out a good school newspaper. Learning the ropes didn't take long, and the first edition of The Trucker Topics was "up to par" after only one month of work.

With interesting feature stories and such regulars as "Club Chatter" and "Teacher of the Month", the student body was kept well informed about just what was going on at Churchland. The Trucker Topics staff came a long way in learning the fundamentals of newspaper work and in presenting an all-around picture of student life with every issue that was published.

Virginia Ellis, Business Manager, and Mr. Holbrook, Sponsor, check through the files concerning the business side of the newspaper.

Hard at work on the newspaper, the four editors, Linda Miller, Ann Haas, Bonnie Rae Talmage, and Peggy Underwood, take time out for a good laugh.

BIBLE CLUB

Rev. Carlton Smith of the Alliance-Church spoke to the members in February on "The Second Coming" and led in a general discussion on the Bible.

MOTTO

"Only one life, 'twill soon be past;

Only what's done for Christ will last."

In order "to win others for Christ by personal witnessing, by projects for spirituality of the school, by Christian activities, and by personal service and conduct," the Bible Club again acted as a real service organization for the school and the community. Through inspirational messages and group discussions, the members gained new insights and ideas about the Bible and their daily living.

Each morning before school, devotions were conducted for any member wishing to attend so that he might gain spiritual inspiration for the day's work. The club collected food during the holiday seasons for a needy family and visited the hospital and convalescent home at various times during the year.

The highlight of any club meeting is the period of fellowship and refreshments after the program is over; so it is with the members of the Bible Club.

Demonstrating the native costume and music of Pakistan, Reverend Thompson concluded his talk in this manner during his visit to the club in January.

PIERETTE CLUB

This year's Pierette Club began its activities with an informal meeting in August in order to set up definite plans for the coming year.

The highlight of club activities was the New Year's Eve Dance held at the Planter's Club. The Esquires provided the music and helped to make this one of the best social events of the whole year. The dance was preceded by a dinner for members and their dates. The whole evening proved to be a wonderful climax to the holidays and a credit to the club.

A ring dance was sponsored to celebrate the arrival of the '63 rings and a perfume sale was held to help finance the social.

After working hard on the club's projects, the old members invited twenty-five junior girls to be members of next year's club.

SPANISH CLUB

In the second year of its existence the Spanish Club — "Los Amigos" — has already become a vital part of the Spanish-speaking students of Churchland High School. Organized to provide an opportunity for interested Spanish students to converse in Spanish informally among their friends, the Spanish Club entered a float in the Homecoming parade and was rewarded with the second-place award.

During the year Mrs. Adams, a native of Bolivia, Colombia, spoke to the members on life in South America, and Barbara Johnson told about her trip to the southwestern states and Mexico this past summer.

The club affords a real opportunity to practice what is learned in the classroom.

This year the Dramatics Club used a new format for the annual spring play. A Night of One Acts was presented, including The One That Got Away, Minikin and Manikin, and The Valiant. Other activities included speakers at club meetings, a trip to William and Mary to the theater open house, and entering The Slave With Two Faces as CHS's one-act competition play.

Thespian Troupe 1546 is a part of the Dramatics Club. Membership in this honorary organization is earned by gaining ten points in work on various productions.

By encouraging interest in this field and by offering enjoyment for all, this group has surely achieved its goal, the promotion of theatre arts in the secondary school.

One of the unsung heroes of the Dramatics Club, Bobby Conway, puts all stage performers "on the spot (light)" during all productions in the auditorium.

VARSITY C CLUB

With the purpose of recognizing the outstanding athletes at Churchland and providing a fellowship club for them, the Varsity "C" Club undertook many projects during the year.

The members of the Varsity "C" Club began the year with a "bang" by sponsoring a winning candidate in the annual Harvest Festival. Their candidate, Pam Herbener, won second place and by doing so netted fifty dollars for the club treasury.

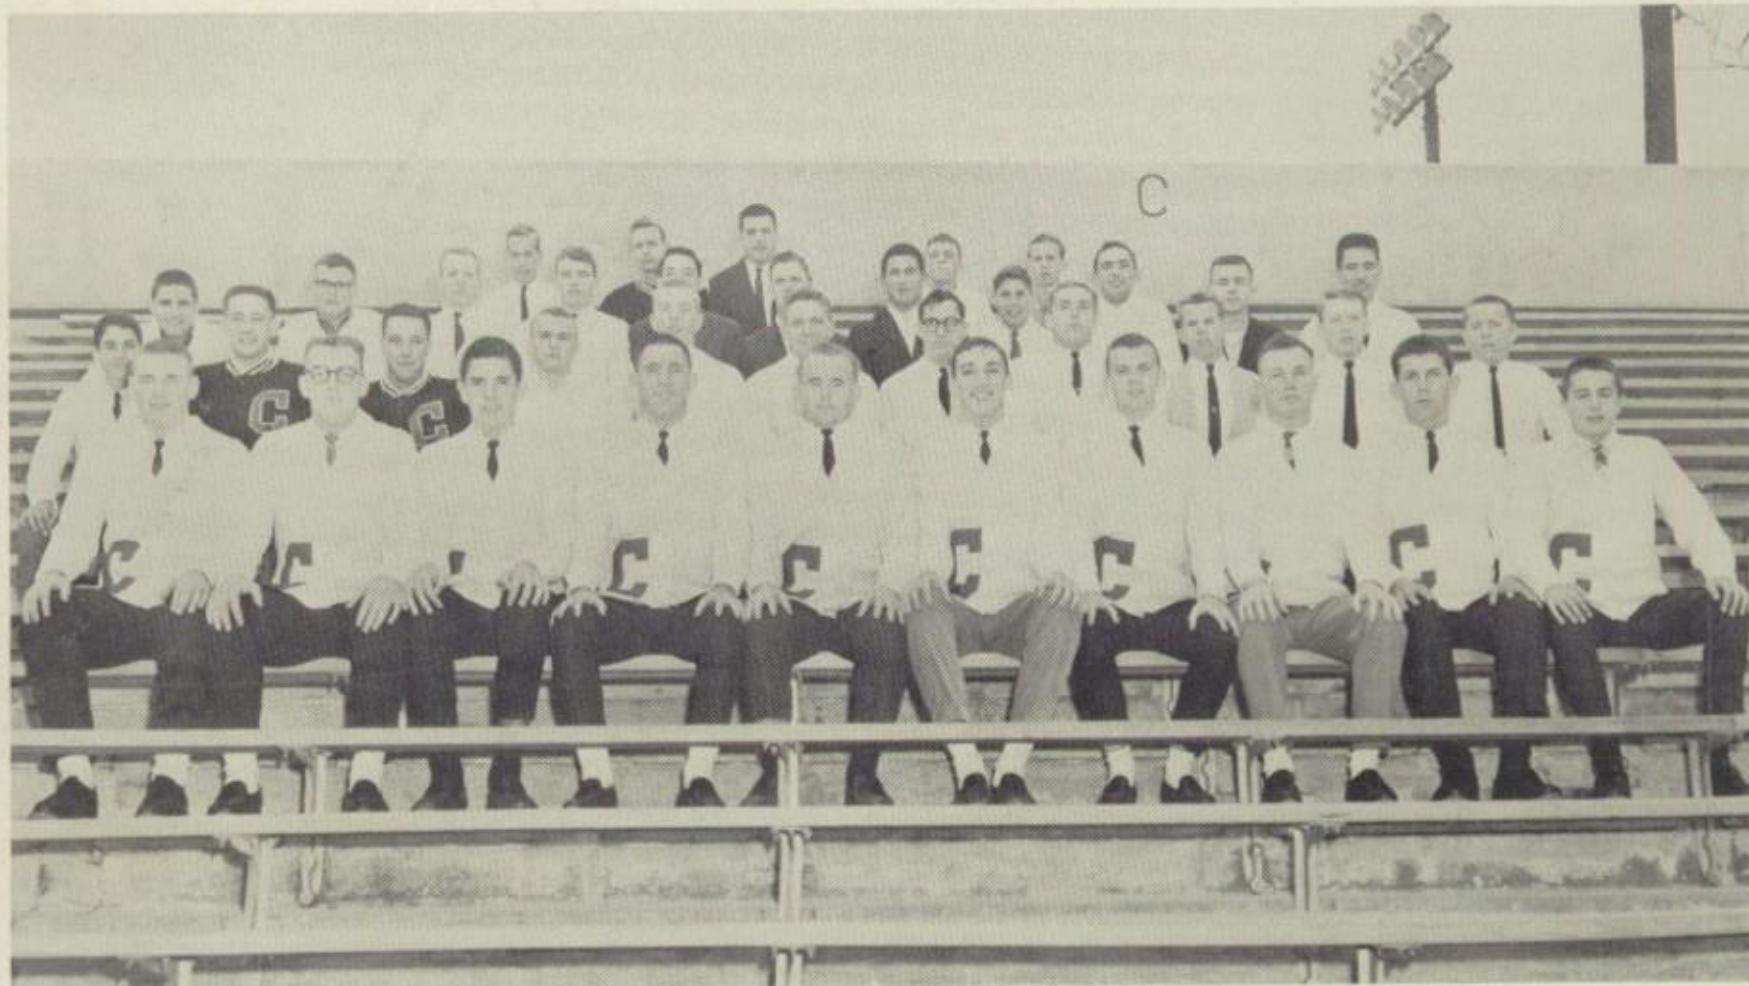

Another boost to the club funds was the sale of soft drinks at home basketball games. This project has not only proven to be helpful to the club in past years, but has been a welcome service to those attending the games. An outing was planned for members and their dates to end the year.

MONOGRAM CLUB

"I'm a Monogram Pledge!" This was the sign worn by all the Monogram pledges as they went through a hectic initiation before becoming full-fledged members of the club. This along with the annual "Turkey Trot" held during Thanksgiving are among a few of the activities which took place during the year.

The Monogram Club is closely connected with the Varsity 'C' Club and is made up of girls who have won a scholastic letter for some phase of athletic achievement. The purpose is to promote good sportsmanship at C.H.S.

Again this year the club sponsored the annual student-faculty basketball game which is looked forward to by everyone. The year wouldn't be complete without this annual event.

CHURCHLAND TRI-HI-Y

With a membership of thirty-one girls the Churchland Tri-Hi-Y set out early in the year to live up to the Hi-Y purpose and retain the title earned by last year's members of being designated as an "ace" club by the Portsmouth Hi-Y Council.

Two projects carried on continually through the year by this club are sponsoring the selection of "Mr. and Miss School Spirit" once a month and saying grace every day at each lunch half.

At Thanksgiving, the girls made pine-cone Turkeys for the patients' trays at Portsmouth General Hospital. Then at Christmas each member learned a little more of the Yuletide spirit by donating and wrapping clothes and toys for a needy family.

TRUCKERS TRI-HI-Y

With an ace rating as its goal for the 1962-63 year, Truckers Tri-Hi-Y began this year with a swimming party at the Y.M.C.A. during August. After school started, an induction ceremony was held at Simonsdale Presbyterian Church with a reception for members and their parents.

At Thanksgiving the members made tray favors, and during Christmas they held a social.

Truckers was also the only club from Churchland to have a candidate nominated to run for a district office; Joan Daughtrey was selected by the Portsmouth Council as a candidate for District Secretary.

The year ended with the election of new officers and the traditional Mother-Daughter Banquet.

"Going! Going! Gone!" exclaims Jack Coppedge, as he and Jeff Gorfine helped the Truckers Tri-Hi-Y at their White Elephant Sale.

TRUCKERS HI-Y

Once again, Truckers Hi-Y held a "Slave Sale", except this year they sponsored it along with the Pierette Club during a break at the "Ring Dance" in October. This was their first money making project which aided in the building of their homecoming float.

During the Christmas season the boys helped to support an orphan and contributed can food and turkeys to a needy family. These were certainly worthwhile community projects.

Each year Truckers Hi-Y donates money to the World Service Organization and this year was no exception. This money goes to underprivileged people in foreign lands.

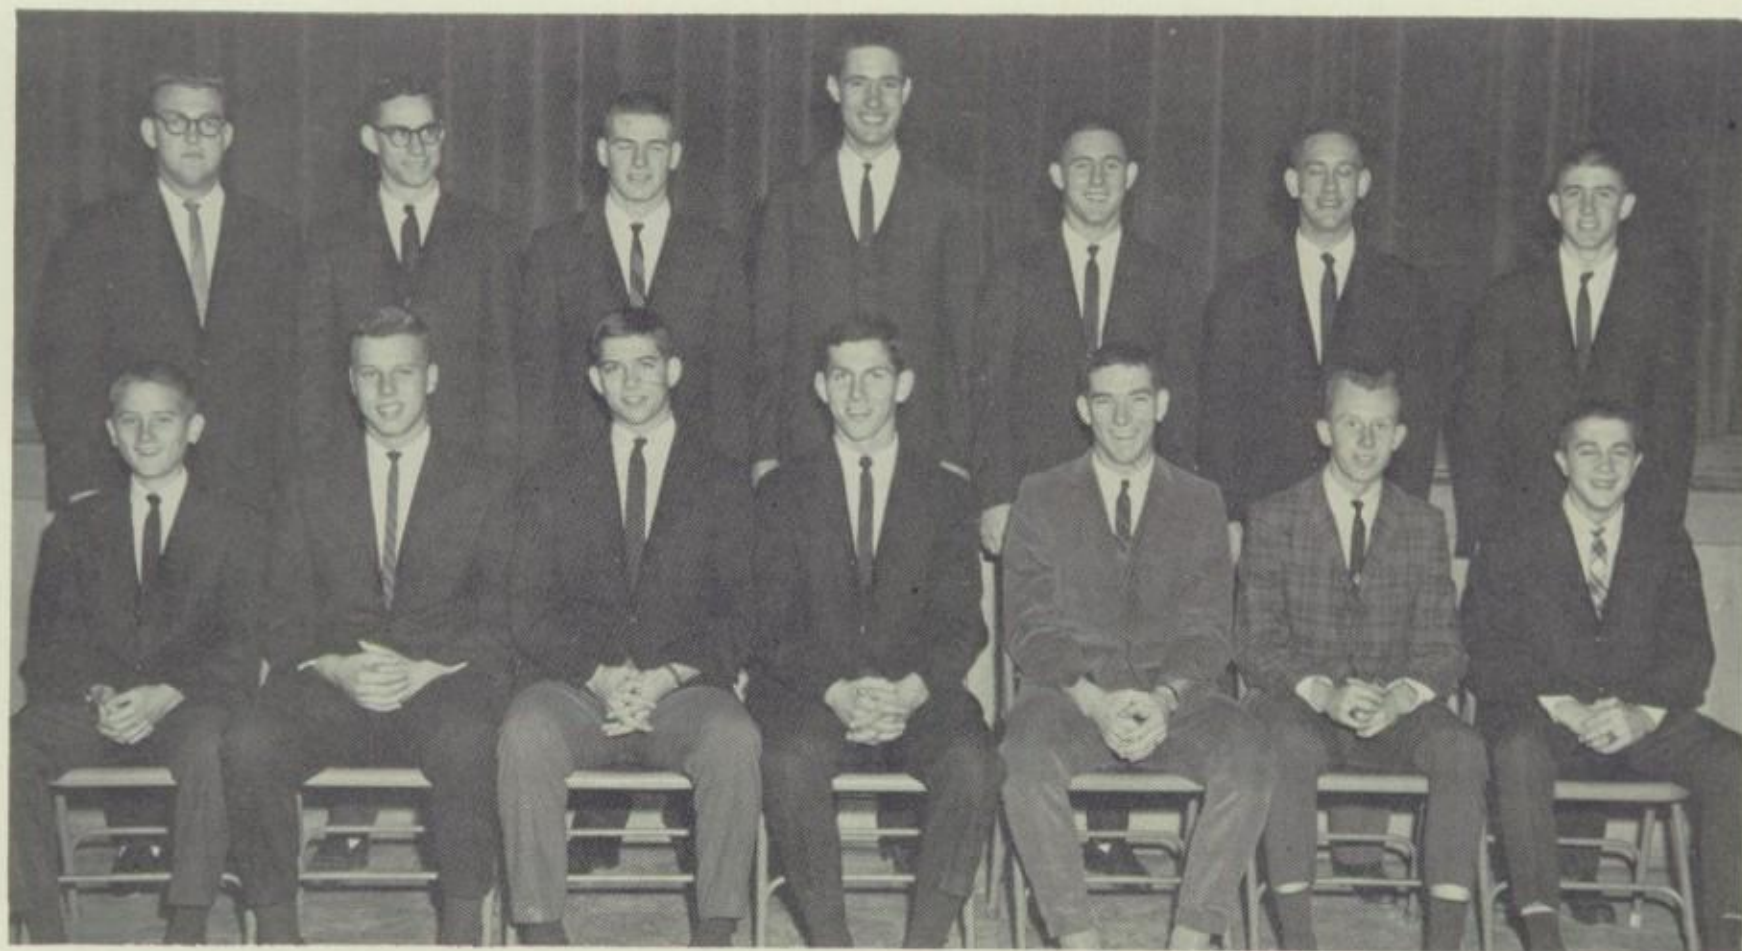

After a year of hard work, planning, and much satisfaction plus fun-filled times, Truckers Hi-Y deserves much credit for living up to its purpose.

At one of their regular Monday meetings at the "Y", Sammy Lamb leads the members in a discussion of one of their yearly projects.

SUCCEDO TRI-HI-Y

Succedo Tri-Hi-Y in its second year has proved itself to be among the most active clubs in school. Its biggest project of the year was the formation of a new freshman-sophomore Tri-Hi-Y which started early in second semester.

Among its service projects were a visit to Manning Convalescent Home, a contribution to the CHS canned food drive, and a contribution to Good Will Industries. Other projects included a rummage sale, a bake sale, a car wash, and a pony ride to support the club's Harvest Queen candidate. Through these activities the club carried out its purpose "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character".

DICK SHEA HI-Y

The organization of the new Dick Shea Hi-Y was a welcome addition to the growing number of Y clubs at Churchland. It was formed by the Truckers' Hi-Y upon receiving such a large response when applications for their club were distributed in the fall.

The club began with twenty-five members eager to put forth much effort in accomplishing the national Hi-Y purpose. With Mr. Lichok as their sponsor, they set to work immediately on plans for a year filled with several interesting and worthwhile projects. A basketball between the two Hi-Y's and a club hayride were anticipated by all the members.

CEM TRI-HI-Y

With their yearly purpose of creating, maintaining, and extending high standards of Christian character in all phases of their life, Cem members pledged themselves to a year of work. Their year began by taking part in the annual Re-dedication Service. Contributing to World Service, providing money and food to needy families at both Thanksgiving and Christmas, and assisting the Humane Society with food and money kept all the members busy. The girls entered a float in the Homecoming parade, actively supported their candidate for Harvest Queen and sponsored their annual "Bunny Hop" at Easter. Working together on these projects has shown that these girls are ready and willing to serve.

WEBB TRI-HI-Y

On the night of Homecoming the members of the Webb Tri-Hi-Y were justly proud of their float, "Around the World with Webb", for it was awarded the blue ribbon. This was representative of the fine work that they accomplished during the year.

They sold doughnuts and held a bake sale in order to raise money for their Harvest Queen candidate. During the Christmas season they had several projects, including caroling, providing food for a needy family, and holding a party.

Later in the year the club raised money for World Service. For the second time they held a spring fashion show, after the success of last year's effort. Thus a most profitable year came to an end.

One example of student participation in the high school is the actual work done by the library staff. Approximately thirty students work during one period each day. Among their duties are checking books in and out, shelving books, signing the notes of students from study halls, and in general helping students with problems concerning the library.

Under the direction of Miss Gibbs and Mrs. Rawls, these aspiring librarians greatly aid the atmosphere of the library. While still in high school, they may obtain this training which will stand them in good stead if they decide to enter library work in the future. In addition, they provide a real service to the school, and to their fellow students.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club was reorganized this year so that it assumed the role of more academic organization. Its main purpose was to further scientific knowledge and interest through programs consisting of movies and talks given by men experienced in their various fields. The agenda of the meetings included the films "Telstar" and "About Time". Speeches ranged in topic from the many possible vocations in science to the complicated world of computers.

With combined efforts of its members, the club ended the year with its fine participation in helping to make the Junior Science Fair a success by entering various projects in the fair.

The members of the F.H.A., "learning to live better today in order that their lives and those of their families might be better tomorrow", strove throughout the year to further their homemaking techniques; this was done by study, group activities, and varied programs.

Early in the fall new members were initiated into the club. The F.H.A. float won third prize in the Homecoming parade. Members took candy to the children at Maryview Hospital on Halloween night and dressed dolls for needy children at Christmas time. They also corresponded with foreign pen pals in order to promote international good will.

The idea behind the club motto, "Toward New Horizons", was fully developed by these numerous activities and events.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Boosted by a large and eager membership, the Future Teachers of America worked hard to fulfill their aims in many ways. The first project of the year was the sale of pompoms for Homecoming. Later in the fall, members ushered at the P.T.A. Open House and presented the annual Teacher Appreciation Tea. A few members journeyed to Roanoke for the state convention in December. At Eastertime the club gave an egg hunt for the elementary school.

Each month the club selected a "Teacher of the Month" for the Trucker Topics. Other activities that extended throughout the school year were the study hall held each morning before school and student teaching at both the elementary and junior high schools.

The members of the Future Business Leaders of America have stated that the purpose of their club is "to train young men and women for the business field of their choice." In order to emphasize this more, a scholarship was awarded to the most outstanding business student of the year. Funds were raised with the help of bake sales, slave sales, and white elephant sales.

During the Yuletide season, the club spread Christmas spirit by providing a needy family with food. However, their enthusiasm was not limited to this function. In school they sponsored dress-up days and displayed a bulletin board concerning the field of business.

For several years the I. C. T. Club, formerly known as the D. O. Club, has played an important part among the students involved in the work program at C. H. S. The club has a two-fold purpose of promoting better relationships between employers and employees and adding to the "learn while you earn" experience.

During the Christmas holidays the club sponsored a dance for members and their dates. In February, Churchland was the host school for the District I Convention of I. C. T. Clubs. A highlight of the year was the state convention held on March 29, 30, and 31 which was attended by several CHS members. Thus this relatively new club earned its place among the active ones at CHS.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

By combining the fun of working together and the seriousness of learning their jobs, the members of the Distributive Education Club made this a profitable year. The club began its activities with a rummage sale to support its candidate for Harvest Queen and a candy sale to raise money for its many projects during the year. For a second year the club sponsored the Christmas door decorating contest.

In addition to these projects, members participated in activities which were more concerned with the field of business. This year the club was honored with the responsibility of being host for the District II of the D. E. Clubs of this area. Later in the year the annual Employer-Employee Banquet and the Professional Breakfast meeting were enjoyed by all.

Possessing the best depth in years, Churchland displayed a superb basketball team. Utilizing the fine talents of many players, the Truckers stopped many fine teams this winter. With a well-balanced scoring attack and a very sound defense, the Truckers distinguished themselves as one of the better teams in the district. The coach of basketball power Newport News said that Churchland was the best team he had faced. The team was especially tough on its home court, making a home contest this year especially enjoyable.

Who are the teams' most loyal fans? The cheerleaders, of course. These spirited girls appear at every football and basketball game throughout the year. While their rewards are little, the cheerleaders' jobs are tough ones. They practice the year around so they may perform in the best Churchland fashion. The Cheerleaders lead pep rallies and make the signs supporting the team. They lead cheers and support the team. Combine these functions and they give the main purpose of cheerleaders — to instill spirit into the student body.

When one recollects winning basketball this past winter, the J.V. team immediately comes to mind. Playing well together as a team enabled them to distinguish themselves as formidable opponents. Well-distributed scoring and sharp passing were the evident trademarks of this fine club. Hard work and a keen desire to learn enabled the team to improve as the season progressed. So great was their finish that the Truckers defeated their last nine opponents. If this is any example of the future play of the Varsity, CHS opponents will have much to contend with in the next few years.

JUNIORS

The members of the class of '64 finally attained the "exalted" position of upperclassmen. Accompanying this rise in status were both added privileges and responsibilities.

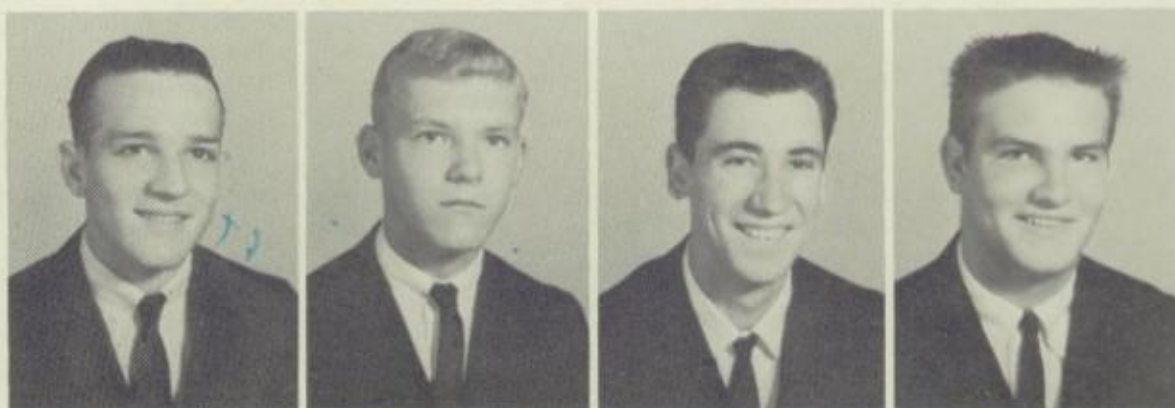

One of the "big" problems of every junior was finding the time to engage in the many activities offered at C.H.S. Clubs, sports, and other extra curricular work began to play a greater part in each junior's school life, while studies and class work became more demanding and required increased effort and concentration.

Underlying every junior's thought throughout the year was the knowledge that next year would be THE year for the Class of '64, for then they would assume the place occupied by the Class of '63.

An awareness of being upperclassmen filled the first semester of the junior year. There were many evidences that at long last the class of '64 had become juniors.

Juniors were among the general participants in most school activities, but there were also many activities planned for "Juniors only."

In October the twenty new Marshals were chosen, led by Dick Weatherford. The Homecoming Court included Pam Chase, Linda Holland, Sharon Martin, Barbara Shaffer, and Mercie Vick. Carole Britt was chosen Maid of Honor.

All Juniors were confronted with many personal decisions concerning their plans for the future. In view of this aim, many juniors took the PSAT tests, attended college night, and began to think seriously about colleges and vocations.

During the second half of their junior year, the class of '64 took over the leadership of the school.

In April the S.C.A. officers were elected and one-tenth of the junior class was tapped into the National Honor Society. Later in the spring, juniors were elected as officers of various clubs and organizations for the 1963-'64 school year.

The biggest project of the junior class was the annual Junior-Senior Prom, which involved months of planning and work.

The spring was also filled with earnest plans for the future, including National Merit tests, College Boards, and applications for jobs and colleges.

As final proof of their "seniorship", the juniors ordered their class rings, and finally became SENIORS!

SENIORS

As with past classes, our Senior year was the highlight of our high school career. Previous Senior classes at Churchland had claimed to be the best, but we set out to prove that we were.

By working together, we Seniors were able to carry out our class projects in close harmony. As officers in many organizations, we led Churchland in one of its best years. Activities seemed to revolve around us as leaders. We were the honored ones to whom CHS meant so much and it was our responsibility to carry on the duties of our Alma Mater.

June would soon be here, and Churchland would be a fond memory of our past.

Gayle and Bunny put the final okay on their Senior proofs at O'Neal's.

Fall '62 seemed to be made especially for us. We once again took the SCAT and STEP tests; we were the only class to take them all four years! We elected class officers, held our first class meeting, and finally got our rings. Looking toward the future, many of us attended College Night and suffered through College Boards.

Our last Homecoming game as C.H.S. students was played October 19. The Football team chose Arlene, Beth, Bebe, Debbie, Mary Mac, and Irene as Senior Representatives to the court. At halftime, Mary Mac was crowned queen.

The Senior Class Play was the biggest "seniors only" activity of the first semester. We worked for seven weeks on "The Whole Town's Talking." Starring Harry, Linda, Milton, and Lynn, it set our whole town talking, too!

Seniors Scott, Chris, Bebe, and Linda display their class spirit by their artistic ability!

A month after school had started, the long-awaited rings finally arrived. Excited Seniors tore out of class and hurried to the office, eager for this Senior status symbol.

This year, the Class of '63 wears a new ring. The name of our school appears in larger letters, the back of the ring is thicker, and the symbols on the side are easier to identify. These changes were well-accepted by the Senior class as being representative of our Alma Mater.

For at least two weeks after they arrived, happy Seniors were proudly showing off their rings to anyone and everyone. It was unusual for one to walk down the hall and not be greeted with "Have you seen my new ring yet?" and have a hand thrust in one's face.

The person behind that familiar voice we hear every morning is our own Senior Milton Martin.

Winter blew in once again, bringing with it the holiday season, winter sports, and studying. During this season we enjoyed Christmas holidays, a needed respite from our continuous study. Winter sports were in full swing, and we turned out in large crowds to cheer our teams on to victory.

To us, however, winter signified study most of all. We somehow weathered the ending of the semester and its accompanying exams. We then started the second semester—our last in high school. The National Honor Society once again sponsored Career Day. Study was the main course underlying all surface activities. Through research papers, book reports, and regular homework we were gaining a fuller realization of the meaning of real work.

At last June came with the final whirl of work and activities. These were the days which we had eagerly anticipated, and now they became the days that we wished to prolong. During the final weeks we realized more fully what Churchland had meant to us. At Graduation we arose with our final tribute:

"Churchland High, through all the ages,
We will loyal be;
By thy guidance we shall prosper
and our faith in thee.
Strong in spirit, striving forward,
We as students stand.
Hail to thee, O Churchland High School,
Best in all the land."

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Jimmy Soderquist—President and Mr. Moore—Sponsor.

Consisting of ten per cent of the members of the Senior Class, the National Honor Society members are a reflection of the four qualities of the organization — Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character.

Functioning as a service organization, the Honor Society well supported this aim during the year. The members started the year off by serving as hosts for the Music Listening Club. By sponsoring the assembly programs throughout the year and by sending out semester Honor Roll letters, the society further carried out this phase of its purposes.

In support of a scholarship fund to be given to one of the members, the Honor Society sponsored a "coat check" at the home basketball games and sold candy.

The biggest event of the year came in April with the tapping of the next year's Honor Society members which was followed by an induction tea for members, parents, and faculty.

BASEBALL

Possessing a strong hitting attack and a superior pitching staff, the Trucker nine were among the top teams of the Eastern District. The team, featuring seven returning starters, outclassed opponent after opponent. Displaying sound fundamentals and an experienced team, Churchland had one of its best teams in many years. Excellent playing and good sportsmanship made them a true credit to the school. With many boys returning next year, the team is sure to represent Churchland as a top contender for the district title once again.

OUTFIELDERS: Randy Williams, Ken Currie, Ken Atkinson, Glenn Perry.

Manager Gary Estes with Coach Charles Bolton.

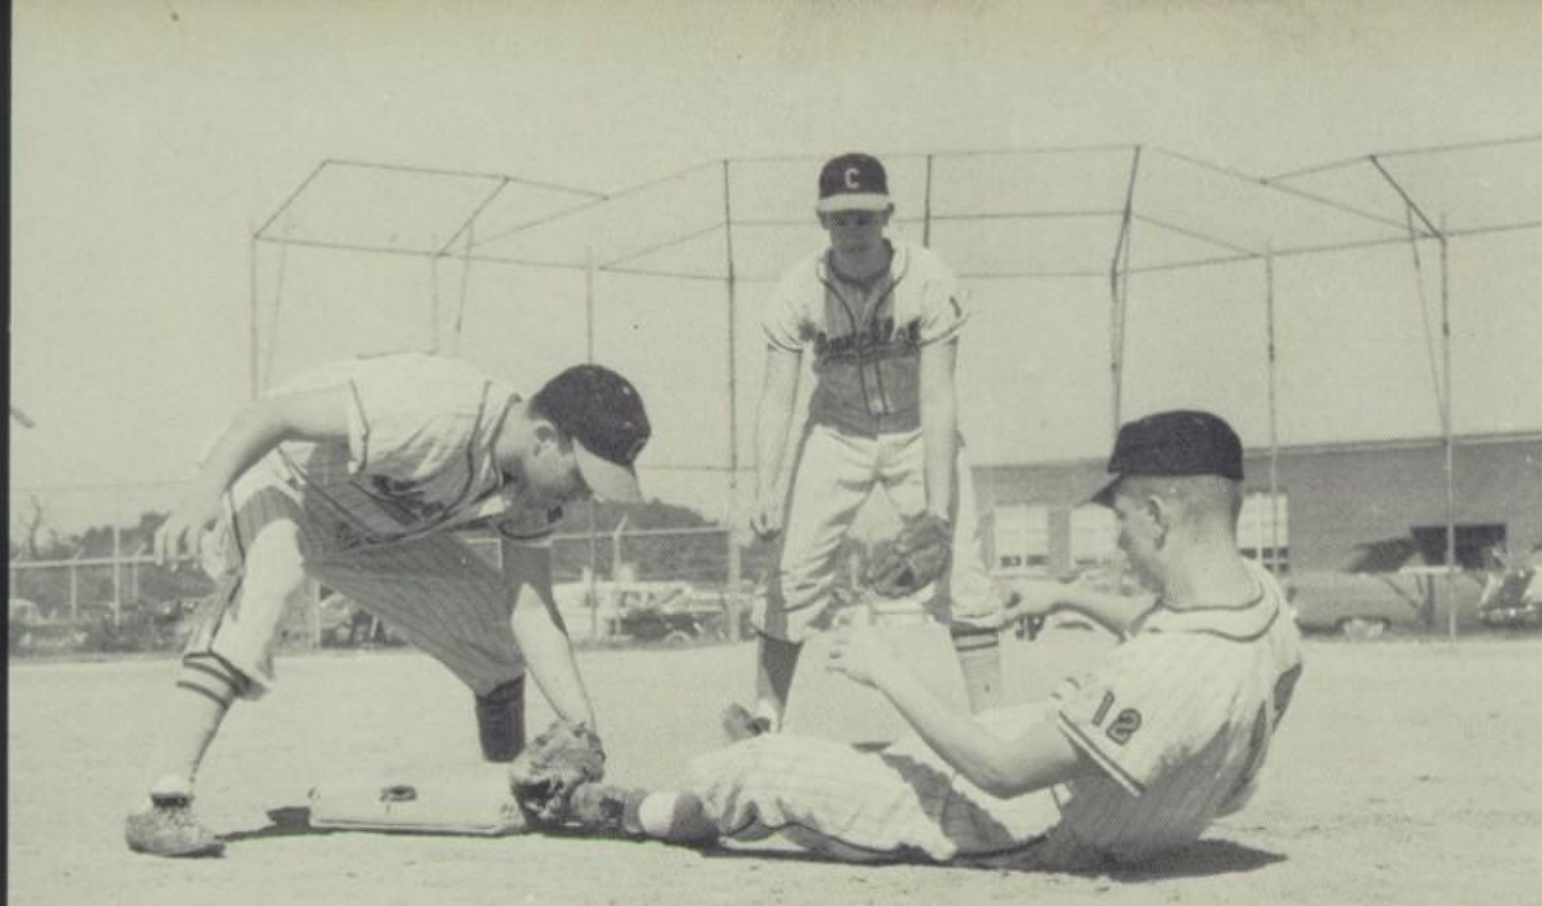

INFIELDERS—Jeff Gorfine, Marvin Barnes, Hank Harris, Jay Jackson, Dick Weatherford, Bob Weatherford.

SENIORS: Eddie Smith, Bob Weatherford, Glenn Perry, Denny Riddleberger, Jeff Gorfine.

PITCHERS AND CATCHER: Denny Riddleberger, Dick Balderson, Danny Spaugh, Tommy Dickens, Eddie Smith.

Jeff Gorfine tags Eddie Smith out as Bob Weatherford backs up the play.

Linda,
 Best of luck to you in your future years at C.H.S.
 as well as in life to come!
 @Panny

Jay Jackson prepares to swing with Tommy Dickens behind the plate.

Not to be outdone by the other sports, the track team finished high among district contenders. Displaying a group of talented athletes, Churchland sent many fine prospects to the Eastern District Meet. Defeating many tough competitors this spring, they represented Churchland well. Possessing a team with experienced competitors, the Truckers were strong in every event, and with many performers returning next year, the team should prosper once again.

Best of luck always to a really sweet girl, have a good time this summer. Lynn

DASH MEN: Leonard Ray, Steve Poole, Lynn Turner, Ashley Beedie, Nicky Psimas, Terry Helms, Marty Martin, Jimmy Pitt.

DISTANCE MEN AND HURDLERS: Front: Mel Kunkle, Skelly Cummings, Ricky Hill, Gary Lawson, Johnny Davis, Bill McGlaughon. Standing: Boyd Pace, David Tynch, Allen Drewry, Larry Nanney.

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM, Front Row: Ted Clements, Allan Drewry, Robert Armstrong, Henry Brown, Mike Gompf, Herb Hanneman, Bruce Mc-

Clay. Back Row: Don Griffin, Bill McGlaughon, George Pittman, Morris Branch, Boyd Pace, Jim Gaskins, Ricky Branch, Coach Lawyer.

Ricky Hill and Bill McGlaughon clear the hurdles to gain two places for Churchland.

Coaches Ken Burgess and Ellie Fearing.

Jack Brown clears the bar in typical winning form.

GOLF

Living up to pre-season predictions, the Trucker golf team dominated play in the Eastern District this season. With many experienced performers returning, the team polished off opponent after opponent. Receiving strong individual performances from each member, the team played in the fashion that has made Churchland's golf teams among the best in the state.

MIXED CHORUS

Under the direction of Mrs. Blake, the Churchland Mixed Chorus was again successful in its performances this year. Thirty-three members of the Chorus Department were selected for the regional All-State held at Princess Anne High School. From these a few were selected for the state All-State held in Roanoke.

During the holiday season, the chorus worked long and hard on music in preparation for the Christmas Concert given annually with the band. As usual, this concert was a seasonal highlight and a credit to Churchland High.

Hoping again to achieve a superior rating, the Churchland Chorus entered the district Festival. The year was climaxed by the Spring Concert and the Baccalaureate Service for the graduating class.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

OFFICERS

This year the Churchland Girls' Glee Club has been one of the largest and finest groups in the Chorus Department. The enrollment was sixty-five and representatives of every class were present.

The first event of the year was the All-State tryouts held at Cradock. Several from this group tried out and were selected for either the All-State or Workshop Chorus.

In December the Glee Club participated in the annual Christmas Concert along with the Mixed Chorus and the band. As usual this concert was a highlight of the holiday season at C.H.S.

The year ended with this group's participation in the Festival at Deep Creek High School and the Spring Concert.

Again, as in the past, this group was a credit to Mrs. Blake and to Churchland.

Mrs. Virginia Blake
Director

The Eighth Grade Chorus is an organization composed of girls from the Junior High School. By beginning their musical training before they enter high school, these girls are exposed to the basic fundamentals of music; they also receive a chance to experiment with the various voice parts. This preliminary introduction is a means by which these students are prepared for the Girls Glee Club and later, the Mixed Chorus.

During the year, the girls participated in the Elementary Festival for a rating. In the spring they combined with the Junior High Band and presented a spring concert. After giving such fine performances, these girls proved that they were ready to become members of the more advanced groups.

TRIPLE TRIO—ALL-STATE CHORUS

The Triple Trio selected for their talent, knowledge of music and willingness to work hard, represented Churchland well at the many Civic affairs at which they performed. The members of this group are: Helen McCready, Judy Smith, Harriet Moran, Patsy Keesee, Kay Bergh, Lynn Dunning, Gayle Atwood, Niomi Olson, Donna Lorange. Accompanist—Susan Benton.

ALL-STATE CHORUS
